Written Statement of Reasons for Detention

I find that the accusations in the indictment, information submitted in the Pretrial Services Agency report, and information submitted at the detention hearing establish by a preponderance of the evidence that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required and by clear and convincing evidence that no conditions will assure the safety of the community.

I conclude that the following factors specified in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g) are present and are to be taken into account:

1. Defendant is a 24 year old male citizen of the United States born in Houston, Texas. He lives with his parents. He has three older brothers, two of whom are currently incarcerated. He has a sporadic relationship with his girlfriend of three years, who is currently living with him. He and his girlfriend have one child 13 months and are expecting another in January 2007. His mother stated that the Defendant does not always stay at her home and she does not know where he stays when he is not there. His mother has cousins who reside in Mexico.
2. Defendant is charged with drug trafficking offenses, including conspiracy to possess with intent to distribute methamphetamine, tetrahydrocannabinol, and marijuana, as well as firearms charges including possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, possession of an unregistered firearm, and possession of a firearm in relation to a drug trafficking offense. Defendant faces penalties on these charges of up to 40 years confinement, plus not less than 5 years to run consecutively to any other sentence for the charge of possessing a fire arm in connection with a drug offense. Numerous firearms were discovered during his arrest for the current offense. Information from the pretrial services report and the hearing indicate that Defendant kept narcotics and guns in the house where his one year old daughter resided.
3. Defendant has a lengthy criminal record, beginning with three juvenile convictions for theft, possession of marijuana and burglary of a vehicle. Since 2000, he has been charged at least 8 times with possession of a controlled substance. He also has two convictions for evading arrest, two convictions for driving with a suspended license, and an arrest for burglary of a habitation that was reduced to criminal trespass. Defendant admits to regular use of marijuana.
4. Defendant has not rebutted the statutory presumptions that he is a flight risk and a danger to the community.
5. There is no condition or combination of conditions of release which would assure the appearance of the defendant in court or the safety of the community. Detention is ordered.

Directions Regarding Detention

It is therefore ORDERED that the defendant is committed to the custody of the Attorney General or his designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. The defendant shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. On order of a court of the United States or on request of an attorney for the Government, the person in charge of the corrections facility shall deliver the defendant to the United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with all court proceedings.

Signed at Houston, Texas on November 3, 2006.
